

iris practice

Sneha Rautela
2024-01-09

iris dataset report

relationship between sepal length and width on the basis of species we can see that setosa species has the widest sepals but has least sepal length and virsicolor species has the least wide sepals whereas, the longest sepals are of virginica species of iris plant relationship between petal length and width on the basis of species

Setosa species has least petal length as well as width , whereas virginica has widest and longest petals.